Mihaela Onofraş-Mackin | Batch IV Moldovan | graduated in 2016

“STede program has been an enriching experience both culturally and professionally. It allowed me not only to understand the complex nature of development and sustainability, but also to explore practical examples through the various study visits, case studies, and the perspectives of countries we lived in. Since I started in 2019 at the International Organisation for Migration (IOM) I worked on the global dimension of development, particularly on mainstreaming migration across various programmes and policies with donors and governments. In addition, my work was closely aligned to the 2030 Agenda and the Sustainable Development Goals - all of which has been closely studied in STede. I believe STede has been a powerful and eye-opening experience, thanks to which I brought added value in my work.”

Sodore Abdoul Azise | Batch I Burkinabè | graduated in 2013

Senior Lecturer, Head of the department of Geography at the University Joseph KI-ZERBO.

“STede experience was important for me considering three aspects: multidisciplinary, multicultural and multilingual. For my current job, this training was very useful because I am now the responsible of the lectures related to sustainable development. I am also a promotor of a bachelor in spatial planning and sustainable development.”

“STeDe was one of the most enriching learning experiences I have ever had. It taught me that nothing is impossible when people with similar values and aspirations come together. It contributed to growing my sense of responsibility towards our world and left me no option but to become a change maker and fight for a more just and sustainable future for all. Most of all, I am grateful for STeDe for giving me sisters and brothers for life.”

Internship opportunities among the CCD-STeDe partners

ViaVia Tourism | Belgium

They are specialized in vocational training for professionals in the tourism sector and beyond, by offering hands-on interactive trainings, tailor-made packages and personal coaching.

Their vision is that Sustainable Tourism Development is a opportunity for increasing prosperity for local communities (at micro and macro level). By carrying out projects for tourism education, entrepreneurial capacity building and intercultural competence enhancement, they want to contribute to the strengthening of human competences.

www.facebook.com/ViaViaTourismAcademy/

Fundacion Pachamama | Ecuador

Fundación Pachamama supports the permanent protection of the Amazon and indigenous territories against the expansion of extractive industries, through alternative models that strengthen climate justice and the self-determination of nationalities and indigenous peoples. FP promotes a resilient and innovative model respectful of life, with an emphasis on the recognition and respect for human rights and the rights of nature, to generate the necessary conditions in which the nationalities and indigenous peoples of the Panamazonia strengthen their processes of self-determination.

Estela Brahimllari | Batch VII Albanian | graduated in 2019

“STeDe has been and incredibly enriching experience for me professionally and personally. Coming from a background in Architecture, I learned to see the build environment as a whole, and to take a multidisciplinary approach in my work. I am currently engaged as academic assistant at the TRANSFORM Institute in Fribourg where I study urban voids potential for qualitative urban densification.”

Mo Xiaoye | Batch VI Chinese | graduated in 2018

“Definitely, the program was a life-changing experience for me. I have been able to get in touch face to face with professors and beloved classmates from different continents of all over the world. Traveling from one country to another and experience the rich culture and renowned universities from various countries brought me unforgettable memories as well. After graduation, I joined the fledging NGO in the energy domain named as Global Energy Interconnection Development and Cooperation Organization and then an International Center on Creativity and Sustainable Development under the auspices of UNESCO. Working for international organizations has been my career goal and I am grateful that the studies of STeDe have made it possible.”

Beatriz Talavera | Batch VII Costa Rican | graduated in 2019

“From the master, I keep all the experiences that field trips such as Po Delta, Saint Lazare or Ghent taught us. With those visits it was possible to understand the complexity of each territory. For instance, we learned that it is important to take time for local actors’ mapping as well as leave room for dialogue in order to shape the context in which we will focus our actions. Having this clear had helped me to set clear objectives that subsequently will guide workshops and negotiations among several institutions that normally work on social joint projects.”

Ana Carla Albuquerque de Oliveira Batch VI | Brazilian | graduated in 2016

“The master programme offered me a rich theoretical framework that contributed to develop excellent critical thinking skills. The international mobility programme provided me with unique opportunities, allowing for privileged access to different territorial contexts. The experience as a whole, widened my perspective on territorial development and enhanced my work skills as a consultant. The programme played a major role in my journey for professional and personal growth. STEDE has been fundamental on my work and commitment towards the creation of a more favourable and sustainable environment, while fostering entrepreneurship and the development of Brazilian small businesses.”
