CALL FOR APPLICATIONS: TRAVEL GRANT TO SUPPORT RESEARCH PERIODS ABROAD

The PhD Program in Civil, Environmental, and Architectural Engineering, aiming to promote international mobility among students and foster the development of new scientific collaborations, announces a call for applications for financial contributions to support PhD students who will conduct a research period abroad at universities, institutions, or research centers during the year 2026.

1. Eligibility

The contributions are open to students enrolled in the PhD Program in Civil, Environmental, and Architectural Engineering who intend to undertake a research period abroad at universities, institutions, or research centers located outside Italy. The research period must have a minimum duration of 90 days, with a start date between January 1 and December 31, 2026.

2. Contribution Amount

The contribution amount (G) is determined by the Doctoral Board, based on a proposal by a designated evaluation committee, and calculated according to the following formula:

$$G = 1.8 \cdot N \cdot k \cdot p$$

where:

- N : Number of days spent abroad;
- k : Coefficient related to the destination country (see attached table);
- p : Evaluation of the research project (on a 10-point scale);

The maximum scholarship amount is 3,500 €.

3. Payment Terms

Contributions will be awarded in descending ranking of the G coefficient as calculated under Article 2. Funds will be allocated until the ranking is exhausted or the total available funds, amounting to 21,486 €, are fully disbursed. The contribution will be disbursed upon completion of the research period. The ranking list will be published by February 2026 on the following webpage:

<https://www.dicea.unipd.it/dottorato/news>

5. Application Procedure

Applicants must upload the following documents to the platform

<https://forms.gle/PGQFTUvW8ewy9Yxq7>

by January 9, 2026:

1. Detailed research proposal (in English) including:
 - State of the art (max 4,000 characters);
 - Objectives of the research project (max 8,000 characters);
 - Proposed timeline (max 4,000 characters).
2. Declaration of absence of additional funding, except for any allowances provided by university regulations.
3. Letter of acceptance from the host institution or a declaration from the host supervisor.
4. Declaration from the supervisor of the Doctoral School, certifying the validity and relevance of the application.

Note: Incomplete applications or those missing any of the required documents will be excluded.

6. Conditions and Revocation

- If the duration of the research period abroad is shorter than declared, the following rules apply:
 1. Unjustified reduction: The scholarship will be revoked, and any disbursed amounts must be reimbursed.
 2. Justified reduction: The scholarship will be proportionally reduced, provided the period is no less than 90 days.
 3. For research periods shorter than 90 days, the Academic Board reserves the right to revoke the scholarship and request reimbursement.
- Research periods already funded by third parties (e.g., Gini Foundation) are not covered by this call.
- Any increase in the contribution resulting from extensions of the mobility period or changes in the destination may not be guaranteed.

The Doctoral Academic Board reserves the right to guarantee the full disbursement of the contribution even in the event of any reduction in the period of stay compared to what was declared at the time of application, if due to force majeure.

7. Final Decisions

The decisions of the Doctoral Academic Board are final and cannot be appealed.
